

Windows Client based install

1. Install the client
Windows 64 Bit - <https://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?linkid=2068602>
2. Open the Windows Desktop client that was just installed.

Select Subscribe on the main page to connect to the service and retrieve your resources. Ensure you login with your STUDENT email and password when prompted.

After you successfully sign in, you should see a list of the resources you can access.

3. There are two ways to access the applications. The first is to open the Research computer and login. The second option is to open the application directly from within the Remote Desktop Window, if it is available.
