Vocational Placement Provider Information

CQUniversity is proud to offer the ACM20121 Certificate II in Animal Care to students in your region. In this course, students complete all units online and regularly connect with their Animal Care teachers through the online platform, email, phone, Microsoft Teams, and Zoom. This training package requires students to demonstrate their competency in various animal care scenarios, and CQUniversity is seeking your partnership as a vocational placement provider to support this practical component.

Students not currently working in the industry will need to undertake vocational placement to complete their practical assessment. Co-assessment with a qualified workplace supervisor—such as a veterinary nurse, zookeeper, kennel hand, or similar professional—is required once the student successfully completes the theory component of each unit. Approximately 120 hours of vocational placement is expected to cover workplace induction and co-assessment requirements; however, this may vary depending on the student's pace in acquiring practical knowledge. Either you or CQUniversity may end the arrangement at any time.

As a vocational placement host, you have the opportunity to help shape the next generation of professionals in the Animal Care and Management Industry. This information pack provides everything you need to know to decide if you are interested in offering vocational placement to one of our students.

We welcome any questions you may have throughout the process and appreciate your dedication to our students and their professional growth. Please reach out to the Animal Care Team at any time.

Packaging Rules

To achieve this qualification, competency must be demonstrated in 17 units of competency:

- 7 core units plus
- 10 elective units.

Elective units must ensure the integrity of the qualification's Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) alignment and contribute to a valid, industry-supported vocational outcome.

Summary of Assessment Tasks

The table below outlines the tasks that students must complete under supervision in the workplace. The Vocational Placement Host will receive a co-assessment document for each unit, which is made available to students on the CQUniversity Moodle Platform.

The co-assessment document is used to evaluate a student's practical skills and competencies in the workplace against the requirements of the training package.

Once the student has completed the necessary practical training related to the task, the Subject Matter Expert (SME) will be requested to confirm this by signing off on the tasks in the co-assessment form.

Frequently asked questions

Will my business be suitable for vocational placement?

A business is suitable if it:

- Operates in the animal care industry
- Can offer a diverse range of animal care tasks for the student to complete
- Provides a safe environment for students to work

Once you have expressed interest in hosting a student, CQUniversity will contact you to assess your business's suitability.

What qualifications do I need to be a host supervisor?

A subject matter expert (SME) is required to supervise and sign off on co-assessment observations of completed tasks for students attending vocational placement.

To qualify as an SME, you must:

- Hold a current qualification as a Veterinary Nurse or similar, or
- Have a minimum of two years' relevant experience in the animal care industry, aligned with the task specifications listed in the summary of tasks provided in the previous pages.

Does a student need to complete all assessments at one workplace?

No. While one workplace is preferred, students may need vocational placements at multiple locations if the tasks required for a unit of competency cannot be met at their current location.

Do students need to complete assessment tasks within a unit in a specific order?

No. Supervisors can sign off on tasks as opportunities arise.

How many times should a student practice a task before being signed off?

There is no set limit. Some students may have prior animal care experience, while others may require more practice sessions. Students are encouraged to complete the theory component of each unit before presenting for practical co-assessment.

Do I need to pay the student?

No. For students not currently working in the industry, payment should not be made to those participating in vocational placement.

How should placement attendance hours be scheduled?

Schedule placement hours to suit your business needs. This could be one day a week or multiple consecutive days, such as during school holidays. Let the student know your preferred schedule.

If I agree to host a student for vocational placement (VP), what happens next?

Once the student (and guardian, if required) completes their sections, the VP host completes sections two and five, keeps a copy for their records, and returns the document to the student for their CQUniversity admissions application.

Who can I contact at CQUniversity for more information?

Reach out to the Animal Care Team via email at animalstudies@cqu.edu.au

CQU | Student Work Integrated Learning (WIL) Factsheet

Who is eligible?

You may be eligible to receive benefits under our Group Personal Accident policy should you meet the following criteria:

1. You must be a Current Enrolled Student of the University or recently graduated and;
2. You must still need to undertake some Work Integrated learning (approved)

When am I covered?

Students are covered by a general group personal accident insurance when they are officially enrolled and on campus or engaged in University sanctioned activities. They are also covered for direct travel to and from sanctioned activities but not for their daily travel to and from campus for normal coursework. Students are not covered when off campus conducting their personal (not CQU University approved) activities despite their status as a student.

Cover under the Policy applies for twenty four (24) hours per day while on integrated work placement, including transit to and from the Covered Person's normal business address.

When do I need my own insurance?

You are responsible to ensure:

- ✓ you have your own car insurance
- ✓ the vehicle you are using is roadworthy
- ✓ personal property is appropriately insured

Will I have 'Out of Pocket Expenses' whilst I am participating in a WIL activity?

It is expected that the student will be responsible for the purchase of any item of clothing or uniform that are a requirement of the placement but is not supplied by the host employer.

Students are responsible for costs associated with them travelling to and from the placement as well as accommodation and transport costs, such as parking fees or fines. The arrangement of accommodation to attend the placement is also the responsibility of the student to arrange.

If you are involved in an accident that is not a University sanctioned activity then you may be responsible to meet any additional costs that are not covered by the public health system or the Medicare system.

Medical expenses that may be claimed either in part or in full through Medicare or Private Health insurance cannot be claimed on this policy.

Medical expenses where there is a full or partial Medicare rebate / benefit cannot be paid under the Personal Accident policy due to federal legislation. Therefore, students will be responsible for any out of pocket expenses, should they choose to be treated by a medical practitioner who does not 'bulk bill'.

The policy should not be seen as a substitute for private medical health cover and or accident / life insurance. The policy assumes students will be treated at a public hospital.

Does a Risk Assessment need to be completed for all WIL activities prior to commencement of the placement?

The University and the Industry Partner, as part of the industry placement, have a shared duty not to place their workers at risk. To exercise some form of due diligence towards their workers, a risk assessment needs to be completed for all WIL activities.

It is the responsibility of both parties to conduct a documented risk assessment prior to the student commencing the placement. The format of the risk assessment is dependent on the activity and the relationship with the partner organisation, however to assist in the process the University has created a template to be completed by the Placement Supervisor for this purpose.

WIL activities may also have further discipline- specific risks that should be considered by the Industry Partner.

Can I get a Certificate of Currency?

If it's a condition of your exchange that the host requires a Certificate of Currency (also known as a Confirmation of Protection), they are available for download on StaffNet. If you have any questions, please email insurance@cqu.edu.au.

The following page contains a summary only of the major benefits available under the University's Group Personal Accident insurance policy.
