

Latin America Free English Initiative

The Latin America Free English Initiative is designed to support prospective students from Latin America by offering up to 30 weeks of free English when they package their CQUniversity studies with a CQUniversity academic course. This initiative helps students build the language skills they need for academic success while reducing upfront study costs. It's a supportive pathway that enables students to improve their English, transition smoothly into their chosen course, and strengthen their future career opportunities.

ELIGIBILITY

1. Citizenship

This initiative is available exclusively to students who hold citizenship from a Latin American country.

2. Offer requirements

Free English is available to eligible Latin American students who receive a CQUniversity offer in 2026 that includes CQUniversity language courses packaged with a CQUniversity academic course (vocational, research or full degree) Students may commence their main academic course in 2027 and remain eligible, provided they commence their English studies in 2026.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Deferrals

Students who defer an offer issued in 2026 continue to be eligible for Free English under this initiative, only if they have accepted the offer, made the required payment, and received a Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE).

2. Duration of Free English

Eligible students may receive up to 30 weeks of English tuition free of charge, based on their English proficiency requirements as determined by CQUniversity.

3. Exclusions – Repeats

The Free English initiative is not available for repeated English units, levels, or courses. Any repeat enrolments will be charged at the applicable tuition rate.

4. General conditions

The Free English applies only to tuition fees for the approved English package and does not cover materials, accommodation, living expenses, OSHC, or other associated costs.

This initiative cannot be transferred, exchanged for cash, or combined with other promotions unless explicitly stated by CQUniversity.

This initiative is only available to students new to CQUniversity Australia or to CQUniversity students who have completed a CQUniversity qualification at diploma, undergraduate, postgraduate coursework level and applying to commence another qualification at CQUniversity if they meet the minimum eligibility criteria.

CQUniversity reserves the right to amend or withdraw this initiative at any time, but changes will not affect students who have already received an eligible offer issued in 2026.
