EREADING LISTS – STUDENT VIEW

BE WHAT YOU WANT TO BE

cqu.edu.au

On October 8, the Library is launching a new interface for eReading lists interface.

While the new interface looks quite different to the existing one, the functionality is largely the same.

Accessing a reading list

The way you access eReading lists has not changed.

For Moodle units, click on the E-READING LISTS link in the top navigation bar.

ASSESSMENT	E-READING LISTS	I SUPPORT	🖻 E-Portfolio
ION LTI EXTERNAL	Research Methods 2	(PSYC12048)

For BeDifferent units, click on eReading Lists under Library Resources.

The layout

This is what a reading list looks like now:

This is how it will look in the new user interface:

< Resear	ch Methods 2 (PSYC12048)	PUBLISHED
+ Add	t∃ Manage citations ▼ Filter	Q Search
>	Week 1 (2)
>	Week 2 (1)
>	Week 3 (4)

Accessing citations

The way you access a citation has not changed – click on View online beneath the resource.

	Quality Criteria and techniques for qualitative research	Full details
	Book Chapter in Successful qualitative research: a practical
	Note: Chapter 12: Quality criteria and techniques for qualitative research
	Essential Prescribed Textbook
	⇔ View online

The tags have not changed, and your lecturer can still add notes about the resource.

	Quality Criteria and techniques for qualitative research	Full details
	Book Chapter in Successful qualitative research: a practica	I
	Note: Chapter 12: Quality criteria and techniques for qualitative research
	Essential Prescribed Textbook
	S View online

To access the resource's full record, click on Full details beside the citation.

Quality Criteria and techniques for qualitative research	Full details
Book Chapter in Successful qualitative research: a practical
Note: Chapter 12: Quality criteria and techniques for qualitative research
Essential Prescribed Textbook
GD View online

Need Help?

If you have any problems accessing your unit eReading Lists, please contact the library.